Whitaker Wright's Means of Suicide Most Deliberate.

"This is British justice."
The small coroner's court at West-ninster was so crowded that Whitaker Wright, jr., son of the dead man, had to stand up throughout the proceedings. He and other witnesses in the main bore out the facts already cabled. Neither the son nor the deceased's closest friends, so they testified today, ever friends, so they testified today, ever heard Wright even intimate that he contemplated suicide.

His solicitor, George Lewis, jr., said the deceased all along implicitly believed that he would be acquitted, or that, at the worst, he only contemplated a disagreement of the jury. Even after his sentence Wright showed only indignation.

Taking out his watch and chain, Wright handed them to Mr. Eyre, say-

Wright handed them to Mr. Eyre, saying: "I shall not have any use for this is that place," meaning the prison. "I give it to you, Eyre. Keep it for me."
This was all that occurred.
After Wright had taken the poison, holding a glass in his hand and still sipping its contents, he said:
"Waters, give me another cigar." Mr. Waters took up Wright's cigar case, which was lying on a table, and Wright deliberately cut the end off a cigar and struck a match. Just as he was going to light the cigar Wright flung the match from him, sank back unconscious and died without uttering another word. The doctor who was called in to attend Wright said he had not detected any smell or sign indicating poison, tempts on Life.

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—Mrs. S. A. West, a candy manufacturer, committed suicide last night by the finally decided the post mortem examination, testified that from every organ of the body exuded the peculiarly pentrating smell of prussic acid, and that there was not the slightest doubt that Wright's death was due to that poison, in its evanide of potarsium form. The deceased had not suffered from any other disease, there were no lescions of the brain and the heart was healthy, though twice the normal size.

It transpired at the inquest that Wright was only searched after his death. A tabloid found in his pocket did not appear to be poisonous. The revolver was discovered by the police after the law court officials had presented and the law court officials had presented the law court officials had presented after the law court officials had pre-viously searched Wright. The coroner revious attempts at suici commented on this and indicated that action probably would be taken by the caping gas.

FORGER CONVICTED.

Denver Jan. 28.—A special to the News from Salida. Colo., says: The jury in the case of J. W. Ryan, on trial charged with victimizing two banks in this city, today returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred. Ryan, with several confederates, was charged with cashing two forged checks, amounting to several thousand dollars, drawn on two banks here, after having them verified by a confederate over the telephone.

THEY ACTUALLY DO THE WORK Food Eaten Is Worthless Unless Digested-Some Stomachs Must Have Help.

Food taken into the Stomach which from the nature of the food or the condition of the stomach, is not digested, is worse than no food at all. This is a is worse than no feed at all. This is a true statement as far as it goes and a great many dyspeptics go only this far with their reasoning. They argue with themselves that because their stomachs do not do the work given them, they must be given less work; in other words they must be starved. It would be just as sensible for a business man wao is unable to do all his own work to cut down his business to his own capacity as it is for a man to starve himself to relieve his stomach. The sensible business man employs help and goes forness man employs help and goes for-ward with his business. Likewise the sensible dyspeptic will employ help for his stomach and give his body proper

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually o the work assigned to them. They elieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive ac-tion. Their component parts are iden-tical with those of the digestive finds and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it. On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

How much more sensible is this method than that employed by many sufferers from weak stomachs. By this means the body and brain get all the good, nutritions food they need and the man is ties. He could not possibly be in prop-er working condition by starving him-self or employing some new fangled insufficient food that does not contain insufficient food that does not contain enough nutriment for a year-old baby. A strong man doing strong work must be properly fed and this applies to the brain as well as the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by relieving the stomach of its work, enable it t, recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bone of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.

MACHEN'S DEFENSE.

Trial of Postal Conspiracy Case Devoid of Sensation.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The defense in the postal trial opened today. Mr. Maddox, on behalf of the Groffs, said he would prove that George E. Lorenz in 1895 had purchased for $590 a half interest in the Groff fastener. He was followed by Mr. Kumler, for the Lorenzes. Kumler asserted that as far hack as 1888 Machen, George E. Lorenz and his brother engaged in the oil business in Ohio, and that as a result of their various transactions George E. Lorenz owed Machen $25,000, and that whatever Lorenz paid to Machen was in settlement on an honest debt.

MATCHING PRISONER.

London, Jan. 28.—"Suicide" was the verdict passed by the coroner's jury today in the eldsing chapter of the trasedy of Whitaker Wright. *Mis death was due to most deliberate suicide. From the rosom by Mrs. Machen's sister. The suicidence at the inquest it was shown that Wright had determined to take his own life in the event of an adverse verdict, and that he went to court with a cyanide tabloid in his possession, while in his hip pocket was a new revolver fully loaded and even cocked. After the sentence Wright went to the lavatory while the tipstaff in attendance on him remained outside. There he swallowed the tipstaff in attendance on him remained outside. There he swallowed the tabloid, returning to the consulting room, washed down the poison with whisky and water and died. One of the last things Wright said was: "This is British justice."

The small coroner's court at Westminster was so crowded that Whitaker Wright, ir., son of the dead man, had with the said that she placed Machen's initials on assignature on official papers. As regards an appeal, Wright said he would do exactly as he was advised.

Asked if some one had not better telephone the verdict to Mrs. Wright, Wright said: "No; there is plenty of time for that."

Business is paralyzed, provisions are scarce and starvation is threatened. A nob arose and first attacked the Christian cometery lately given by the sultant to the foreign missions, burned down the gates, desecrated the town with the heads stuck on poles.
